Says Germans In Southern France 'In Full Retreat'

Allied Forces Have Extended Their Area Of Control To 2,000 Square Miles

FRENCH SUBDUING TOULON RESISTANCE

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ROME, Aug. 22.—The German army in southern France is "in full retreat," Maj. Gen. Alexander Patch, commander of the American Seventh Army, declared today as Allied forces of liberation extended their area of control to 2,000 square miles.

American spearheads shot 60 miles inland from their original beachheads while French troops battled to subdue the last Nazi resistance inside the naval base city of Toulon.

Enemy Perplexed

"The enemy in our area is perplexed and confused," Gen. Patch said in an order of the day from his advanced headquarters.

"Except for his coastal defense forces, he is in full retreat."

The former American commander at Guadalcanal called upon the forces under his command to exert a maximum effort to prevent the Germans from getting time to recover.

"We have a definite chance of victory," the general said. "The opportunity for decisive results is in."

Time Now Nearing For Next U. S. Move Toward Philippines

By CAPTAIN JOHN H. CRAIG
(Written Especially For International News Service)

In the war of the Pacific, forgotten during the past few days because of astonishing American successes in France, all signs indicate that the time is ripe for General Douglas MacArthur to launch the next move in his campaign for return to the Philippines—and victory.

Early in the present month, Admiral Chester Nimitz and the naval arm of the American pincers with their Marine amphibious forces, completed the mopping up of Guam, Saipan and Tinian, strategic islands of the Mariana group within 1,500 miles of Tokyo and Manila. Now the campaign north of the equator must come to a temporary halt while the engineers and Seabees construct great base facilities on Guam and Saipan for naval, air and land forces. This construction work must be completed before these islands can be used as a base by great American forces in a campaign against Japan's inner ring of defenses.

Ready For New Moves

Meantime, General MacArthur's forces have been resting on their heels.

Report Russian Patrols Active Inside Prussia

Soviet Government Newspaper Reports First Penetration Of German Soil

BIG GUNS ALSO FIRE OVER BORDER

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Aug. 22.—Front dispatches were quoted by the government newspaper Izvestia today as saying that Russian patrols are operating inside East Prussia in the first penetration of German soil by any Allied force since the beginning of the war.

Soviet mortars and machine-guns were reported firing across the border from an "advanced area."

Izvestia added that "gunners were the only ones to strike German territory." It was being thoroughly combed by patrols going out on the river side of the border.

There was no indication of the point at which Russian patrols crossed the East Prussian border, but the mention of the "river side" of the border road hinted that it might have been along the Biebrza river, where Russian forces have been driving for the East Prussian rail center of Lyck.

Advance Northeast Of Warsaw

Meanwhile Red army Legions sweeping across a 21-mile stretch of the Bialystok-Warsaw railroad, cracked the main German defenses northeast of Warsaw. Other Russian forces, however, were forced to yield the Latvia rail town of Tukums, 35 miles west of Riga, in what the Soviet communiqué described frankly as a "retreat."

More than 50 towns and villages were taken by Russian troops who

Gen. Patton Opens New Offensive In French Campaign

All-Out Drive To Trap Remnants Of 7th Nazi Army. Also Part Of 15th

SECRECY CLOAKS PARIS FIGHTING

BULLETIN

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 22.—American forces commanded by Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton Jr., launched a smashing new offensive today along the south banks of the Seine river in an all-out drive to trap not only battered remnants of the German 7th Army but part of the enemy's 15th Army as well.

A frontline dispatch from International News Service correspondent Clark Lee said that the Germans are in the utmost confusion and do not seem to have any plans to cope with the developing American flanking thrusts.

Secrecy On Fighting

Lee quoted high American officers as saying that "the end is in sight" in the battle of France.

Meanwhile, progress of the fight—

Washington Roundup

(By International News Service)

Delegates from the United States, Great Britain and Russia are starting secret session in Washington today, working out plans for an organization to keep the world at peace after the war is won.

The "Big Three" Allied representatives are optimistic about reaching an agreement at the International Security Conference. It appears likely that the beautiful white buildings on the shore of Lake Geneva will be abandoned, together with the name "League of Nations," to shake off the atmosphere of failure which still clings to the old league.

As the meeting enters its second session, Sen. George (D) Ga., predicts the administration and Gov. Thomas Dewey, the GOP presidential candidate, will agree upon "basic issues" in world postwar organization.

Congress itself meanwhile appears headed for a sharp clash over legislation establishing a government war surplus property administration.

Rep. Colmer (R) Miss., author of a house bill, says he will insist upon a single administrator. A senate measure being readied for debate tomorrow calls for an eight-member board.

The Senate War Investigating Committee is going to question WPB Vice-Chairman Charles E. Wilson to determine whether plans for partial reconversion to peacetime production are upset by Production Chief Nelson's mission to China. President Roosevelt's assurance that the mission will be temporary quieted Rep. Nelson's plan to resign, but the committee still wants to talk to Wilson.

From WPB comes a report that overall farm machinery output for the year ended June 30 dropped 4.9 percent below schedule.

German Forces Out Of Florence

ROME, Aug. 22.—(INS)—The historic Italian city of Florence, one of the world's great cultural centers has been completely cleared of the Germans and is now firmly in the hands of the Allied Eighth Army.

Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson's headquarters announced today. Allied troops are already pushing beyond the city.

Polish and Italian troops are continuing their drive up the Adriatic side of the battlefield, pushing the enemy beyond the Metauro river.

The towns of Cerasa, Orclano and Poggio have been occupied by the Allies in this sector.

Elsewhere, Allied patrols have continued harassing the enemy and in some places have penetrated deep into the Nazi lines.

At Gen. Wilson's headquarters it was said that the anxiety that Florence might become a battlefield is now over and that unless the Germans decide to blast the city with long-range artillery fire it will quickly return to normal.

It was officially disclosed that the Eighth Army took more than 13,000 prisoners in the three months from May 11 to August 10.

According to Domel, "approximately 30 four-motored large-type enemy planes" struck at Truk during the morning, while "approximately 20 planes hit Yap in the afternoon."

The Japanese Domei agency said today that Allied planes raided Truk in the Central Carolines and the island of Yap, some 350 miles southwest of Truk, yesterday (Japanese time).

Yanks Driving Toward Bayonne

LONDON, Aug. 22.—(INS)—American motorized columns which crossed the Loire river at Nantes were reported in unofficial dispatches today to be striking southward through western France and heading toward Bayonne which was sheltered by three Allied cruisers.

Bayonne coastal defenses, according to the London Daily Mail, were shelled on Sunday as American forces raced southward through Angoulême, 66 miles northeast of Bordeaux.

The new aggressiveness of the Luftwaffe north of Paris cost the Germans 16 planes. They were shot down by anti-aircraft fire.

The German tanks which joined in the battle for the crossings were smashed up by American tanks and artillery and 30 of them were knocked out.

While this battle was going on, American forces who had crossed the river were steadily expanding their bridgehead on the eastern bank in the face of increasing German resistance with mortars and machine-guns.

Second Son In Family Killed

Nick DiLorenzo Of Croton Ave., Killed In France Week After Brother

Twice within a week the war brought death to the family of Tony DiLorenzo of 1296 Croton avenue. On Monday a telegram was received from the War Department announcing the death in action of his son Private Nick Albert DiLorenzo, 24, killed in France, on July 23.

On August 2, a telegram was received by Mr. DiLorenzo announcing the death of his son, Private James J. DiLorenzo, 20, who was killed in France on July 17, just a week prior to his brother.

Private Nick Albert DiLorenzo was an athlete here a few years ago and was a proficient baseball player. He was known to his acquaintances as "Cubby." For a time prior to the war he was a welder, employed in Sharpville but about 18 months ago went into service.

Both the brothers were products of the local schools, and both were members of St. Vitus church. The family is a respected family in the Croton district.

The two brothers are survived by their father, the mother having died some years ago, two sisters, Mary and Nancy and three brothers, Adam, Andrew and Albert.

P.A.C. Has Warning On Political Funds

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—(INS)—The CIO political action committee had a warning from U. S. Attorney General Francis Biddle today that if the committee uses money in the general elections derived from same sources as that used in the primaries "it will be a violation of the law and there will be prosecutions."

The attorney general in Los Angeles on a visit, declared that "the corrupt practices act as amended by the Smith-Connally act, specifically applies to labor unions."

PA NEWC Observes

Painters had the spotlight on the high spire of the First Christian church on the public square today. At noon, one was at the highest pinnacle of the steeple, high above the city.

In some localities special efforts are being made to collect the huge crop of elderberries in the district. In New Castle and surrounding areas a large crop of these berries is reported this year, and none should be allowed to go to waste.

With the opening of school coming in a short time, plans are being made throughout the state for resumption of can collection by the school pupils. The children in the schools have been doing a wonderful war job in this collection work in the past year or more years.

More and more planes have been circling the city lately. Pa. Newc has been nothing. One flew around a group of picnickers several times Sunday evening, and then turned a spotlight on them as they sat around

Radio Report Says Toulon Liberated

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(INS)—Radio France at Algiers reported today that the port of Toulon had been liberated yesterday by French troops after a final assault that started Sunday.

The broadcast, reported by the federal communications commission, was directed to France.

Previous reports from Allied sources said that French troops had been engaged in mopping up Nazi defenders of the city.

Laval Government Moves Headquarters

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(INS)—The Nazi-controlled Vichy radio announced today that the government of Pierre Laval was in the process of transferring its seat to another French town.

The announcement, contained in a domestic broadcast reported by the Federal communications commission, was made at the end of a news summary. No reason for the decision to transfer was offered by Vichy nor was the new seat of government identified.

War Correspondent Killed In France

LONDON, Aug. 22.—(INS)—William Stringer, 27-year-old Texas-born Reuters war correspondent with the American first army, was today officially reported to have been killed while covering the advance of American troops in a forward zone in France.

No further details of the circumstances of his death are known. Stringer's last dispatch described scenes in the Chartres area.

The first war correspondent to enter Cherbourg, Stringer was the third Reuters front line man to lose his life.

German Casualties Placed At 300,000 In Northern France

LONDON, Aug. 22.—(INS)—At least a half dozen German divisions were estimated today to have been wiped out in northern France since D-day, representing an enemy loss of roughly 300,000 men in casualties and prisoners.

Exchange Telegraph said about 20 German divisions remain in the battle area, but their strength had probably dropped from 12,000 to 4,000 a piece.

The British agency added that probably less than 100,000 Nazi troops remain in action in northwestern France—and these have their backs to the Seine.

Rommel May Have Died On July 18

LONDON, Aug. 22.—(INS)—The London News Chronicle, in a dispatch from Livorno in northern France, said today that German Field Marshal Erwin Rommel "probably" died of a fractured skull on July 18 in a hospital in Bernay, some 20 miles from Livorno.

The dispatch quoted the mayor of Livorno as authority for news of Rommel's death. Livorno's capture was announced yesterday by Allied headquarters.

Vets Of Foreign Wars Undecided On Admitting Women

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—(INS)—Whether women serving in the armed forces overseas should become an integral part of the Veterans of Foreign Wars today became too much of a question for the organization to decide.

So the VFW, opening its national encampment in Chicago, may leave it up to the men veterans of World War II. At least that was the gist of a resolution to be presented to the committee on bylaws.

The VFW, founded in 1899 by overseas veterans of the war with Spain, has been strictly "men's" organization since the war with Spain. Records in the war with Spain or World War I tried in vain to break the "purely male" tradition of the organization.

British Naval Losses In War Being Revealed

LONDON, Aug. 22.—(INS)—The Royal Navy has lost 561 combat vessels and auxiliaries, including 272 warships and 289 supplementary craft, since the entry of Britain into the war September 3, 1939, the British information services reported today.

The period of loss, extending through August 13, 1944, showed the highest loss in the category of destroyers, 124 of which have gone to the bottom. Other warships losses by categories follow:

Battleships, three; battle cruisers, two; aircraft carriers, five; small aircraft carriers (converted merchantmen), two; cruisers, 28; armed merchant cruisers, 14; submarines, 64; frigates, seven, and corvettes, 23.

Surplus Property Disposition Cause Of Congress Clash

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(INS)—Congress appeared today for a sharp clash over legislation establishing a government surplus property administration, as Rep. Colner (D) Miss., author of the House bill, disclosed he will insist upon a single administrator heading the agency.

A Senate measure being readied by the military affairs committee for probable debate in the provision for an eight-member board to handle the disposal of an estimated sixty to 100 billion dollars in excess goods.

advanced one to six miles across the vitally important railroad between the Polish capital and the Bug river. A tense battle for Warsaw itself was declared to be in progress.

Other Soviet forces smashed German counter-attacks northeast of Prague, northern suburbs of Warsaw. Nazi tanks and infantry, greeted by withering Russian artillery and mortar fire, suffered heavy losses.

Russian Planes Attack

The 21-mile stretch of the Bialystok-Warsaw railroad was seized between Tuszyn and Zielonka, 40 miles northeast of Prague, units of Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's First White Russian Army battered their way six miles northwest of Tuszyn to occupy Trojany, three miles south of the Bug river and 19 miles northeast of Prague.

While Tuszyn was abandoned by order of the Soviet high command, enabling the Germans to reestablish communications between their previously isolated forces in Latvia and Estonia with those in Lithuania, other Russian troops fought north struck to within three miles of the Riga-Italian railroad.

Russian planes again bombed the Romanian Black Sea port of Constanta, sinking a destroyer and three other vessels.

The Soviet communiqué was silent on Axis reports of a new Russian drive in Romania toward the Ploesti oilfields.

Declares Germans In Full Retreat

ROME, Aug. 22.—(INS)—Maj. Gen. Alexander M. Patch, commander of the U. S. 7th Army in Southern France, in a special order of the day today urged his troops to give the "stunned, perplexed enemy" no time to recover in their flight before the advancing Allies.

Declaring the Germans were "in full retreat" except for "doomed" defense forces, he asked his men "regardless of fatigue and possible shortages of food and equipment" to continue their maximum effort and reject every "temptation which will give the enemy time to recover."

GEN. PATTON OPENS NEW OFFENSIVE IN FRENCH CAMPAIGN

ing in the Paris area, which was reported outflanked by American forces that have thrown bridgeheads across the Seine above and below the capital, was cloaked in secrecy by Allied headquarters.

German reports continued to indicate that the Nazis are preparing to abandon the French capital without a fight, but there were indications some of the enemy might be trapped within the city.

A headquarters spokesman said that Patton's movements were developing so fast that communications with his forces were difficult.

Seek To Trap 15th Army

Third Army columns swung north and west of Dreux, 42 miles west of Paris, in the drive to trap the German 15th Army, hemmed in by the Seine, the sea and British and Canadian forces pushing down from the northwest.

The front in this region extends westward to a point halfway from Dreux and thence to Laigle, about 32 miles west of Paris. At Laigle the Americans are pounding the Germans from the south and pushing them north, while Canadian forces are hammering the enemy from the east in their drive below Lisieux.

The Brazzaville radio in a broadcast heard by NBC said that members of the Paris underground have established contact with advance units of Patton's army.

The broadcast added that Parisians may soon be able to see the bodies of their would-be conquerors "swinging from the trees of Paris."

Drive On Robot Bases

Today's communiqué from Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters emphasized the fighting in the Lisieux area, south of the city of Paris, where British and Canadian forces are believed to be driving against Nazi robot bomb launching grounds behind and along the northern French coast.

One Allied column is a mile away from Lisieux, important communications center on the main highway running through Dreux to Paris. Good progress has been made between Lisieux and the bay of the Seine, the communiqué said. In this region the towns of Douzule and Dives-sur-Mer have been captured.

Other Allied columns have advanced to Annebault and Bonnesbosq.

Immediately west of Lisieux, British Second Army forces commanded by Lieut. Gen. Miles C. Dempsey took Caumont, an advanced north of St. Martin de Laigle, to within a mile of Lisieux.

Fighting continues in the vicinity of Vimoutiers, the communiqué said.

Foil Nazi Attempts

Determined German efforts to break out of the Argentan-Falaise pocket have again been checked effectively and mopping up operations continue. Allied units pushing east of Chambois have captured Gace.

The weather severely restricted air operations yesterday, but during the evening coastal planes attacked enemy shipping near the mouth of the Gironde river, which flows into the Bay of Biscay above Bordeaux.

There is nothing to report from the remainder of the front," Gen. Eisenhower's communiqué said.

American armored forces thrust across the Seine river southeast of Paris yesterday to establish the second bridgehead across the historic waterway and pave the way for new battles of the Marne, where two of the biggest battles of World War I were fought.

The left and center of the Allied line is swinging northwest of Paris to force a new trap around battered remnants of the German Seventh Army that escaped from the Argentan-Falaise pocket. British and Canadian troops are moving swiftly toward the Seine estuary, below Le Havre.

front of us and we must use it with the utmost speed and effectiveness.

Radio Algiers said French troops already were in possession of Toulon, but full of the city was not confirmed in the regular communiqué from headquarters of Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson.

Nearing Marseilles

Infantry elements have advanced to within eight miles of Marseilles, France's biggest port and second largest city.

A British radio broadcast heard by NBC said that the Allies are six miles from Marseilles.

French forces are advancing northward beyond Toulon, the communiqué said.

American troops of Maj. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's U. S. Seventh Army have captured Air-En-Provence and forward elements have pushed beyond the Durance river, taking Grambois and Manosque.

The deepest penetration of southern France came in the fighting at Draguignan near the center of the rapidly expanding beachhead where a number of towns were captured.

New York, Aug. 22.—The British radio said today that French forces of the interior "are fighting the Germans inside Marseilles, while the Allies are reported within 6.2 miles of the city."

BBC said in another broadcast that one Allied column "has been reported in the neighborhood of the great lake Etang de Berre between Marseilles and the Rhone Delta" and added:

"If the Allies could consolidate their grip across this lake, it would leave the Germans with a narrow strip of land between the lake and the sea as their only link with Marseilles."

Both British broadcasts were recorded by CBS.

Ward Case Back In Courts Again

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—(INS)—The prolonged controversy between the government and Montgomery Ward & Co., marked at one stage by seizure of the plant, neared a showdown today when the case was tossed back into Federal court, this time apparently for a final decision.

Prior to an arbitration hearing which was scheduled for today, the company filed in Federal court a suit seeking a declaratory judgment against its employees' union and Judge William L. Knous of Colorado, who had been designated as arbitrator.

Judge Knous is an associate justice of the Colorado supreme court and the defendant unions are the United Mail Order, Warehouse and Retail Employees' Union, Local 20 and its national parent union.

The immediate effect of the court action was cancellation of today's arbitration hearing. The suit itself was assigned to Federal Judge John P. Barnes, but no date was set for trial.

MORE WESTERN AID

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(INS)—The Senate roads committee today reported a bill authorizing expenditure of 650 million dollars to match state appropriations in a post war road program.

Of this sum, 200 million would be spent in cities of 5,000 or over. All funds would be dispersed on a 50-50 basis with the states.

An exception, however, was provided to allow a 60-40 division for three years to aid western states in which the federal government owns huge tracts of land.

TIME NOW NEARING FOR NEXT U. S. MOVE TOWARD PHILIPPINES

oars since the successful conclusion of his campaign to complete the conquest of New Guinea and the isolation of its Japanese garrisons. When there is no news from MacArthur's front, it is a pretty certain indication that the great American general is getting ready for new and important moves. Almost any day we may expect to hear that his divisions have leap-frogged forward in a new jump Philippineward of the greatest importance.

All signs point to Halmahera, big former Dutch island approximately half way between MacArthur's bases on New Guinea's northwest tip and Mindanao, southernmost big Philippine island, as the target of his attack. Halmahera was listed from the beginning as an important leap-frogging point in MacArthur's plan for a return to the Philippines. Its significance was pointed out in this column as long ago as last February 29.

Back Toward Philippines

With MacArthur established in Halmahera, Davao, great southern port of Mindanao, would be less than 500 miles away. In this case also there are a multitude of small islands scattered in between that would serve as convenient stepping-stones.

Once MacArthur's troops and planes are established in Mindanao the handwriting on the wall will become increasingly plain to the Mikado's warlords. According to reports reaching this country in increasing volume, the Japanese have never been able to complete the conquest of the southern Philippine islands. Apparently there are in the neighborhood of 25,000 Filipino guerrillas in Mindanao, Samar and Negros islands, led by a sprinkling of Americans. Most of these guerrillas are former members of MacArthur's Philippine army, and they have plenty of rifles and ammunition. Once they have the backing of American planes, tanks and artillery, they will probably be able to finish off their Japanese would-be conquerors with little outside assistance.

QUALITY NOT REVEALED
There are a great many articles manufactured today, where the purchaser can not tell much about the quality, by looking at the finish of same.
This is very much the case when purchasing a casket. The casket that has the finest glossy finish may have imperfections, whereas a casket with an ordinary finish, may be of the best quality.
It is very important that one purchasing a casket should do so from one with long experience in the business of handling same, and one in whom they have faith, insuring them that the quality is there, as well as the finish.

BBC said in another broadcast that one Allied column "has been reported in the neighborhood of the great lake Etang de Berre between Marseilles and the Rhone Delta" and added:

"If the Allies could consolidate their grip across this lake, it would leave the Germans with a narrow strip of land between the lake and the sea as their only link with Marseilles."

Must Retain Pacific Bases

It is likely that Americans are in the Japanese islands to stay. While it is unlikely that we shall keep any possessions of other United Nations—indeed, we have returned administration of some to their rightful owners already—we will insist on maintenance of our foothold in Japanese mandated lands for security reasons.

We must never be threatened again by Nipponese aggression, or that of any would-be conqueror. We also have a stake in the speed-up of world transportation and communication in the years to come.

There is no doubt that the next decade will see Chungking and Tashkent brought as close to the United States as New York was to San Francisco at one time. Planes which may dwarf even the B-29's will fly the great circle route from Seattle to Alaska and Siberia, via the Aleutians and, possibly, the Kuriles. World commerce will be speeded up to many times its pre-war flow. Entirely new vistas of travel and vacations will be opened.

At the same time new war-making weapons can easily be developed. The next stab-in-the-back may well come from some nation which has decided on an all-out role of conquest via robot planes, disease germs, giant bombers or poison gas. The only way to prevent such an attempt would be through maintaining strong bases and through utmost vigilance. If we have decided as a world of nations to outlaw war, there is nothing to indicate any measure of success as yet. We must be prepared for World War III until such times as facts and not theories have proved that we have permanent peace as an actuality.

That is why we're in the Marianas to stay. That's why nothing short of the complete defeat and unconditional surrender of Nippon will be satisfactory.

Mass Farming Fails

One of the New Deal's mass farming experiments, the Deeshee Farms near Vincennes, Indiana, is to be liquidated. The equipment and livestock will be offered at auction August 28 and 29. The acreage likely will be subdivided into 125-acre plots and if none of the present tenants wishes to buy, the public will be invited to acquire the land.

Rep. Gerald W. Landis of the Vincennes district characterizes the failure of this experiment as "just another New Deal blunder at the expense of the taxpayer."

In 1936, when the Resettlement Administration was going strong under the direction of Rexford Guy Tugwell, who is now exploiting his ideas as governor of Porto Rico, millions were being thrown about to buy land on which mass farming might be tried. Scores of tracts were bought.

The leadership of the movement apparently believed that by polluting American farm life with unproved collective farming ideas the end of free enterprise could be hastened.

Failure of the Deeshee Farms corresponds in numerous respects to the New Harmony communistic colony where Robert Owen's social theories clashed with human nature. Nearly all these projects throughout the United States have been abandoned. They were originated largely by persons who had little understanding of American character—starry-eyed dreamers and spenders of other people's money.

Price Of Victory

Great news comes from France. Americans and the people of all the United Nations have cause for exultation—but solemn exultation, devoid of light-hearted jest or frivolous boast. Here is why:

American losses alone in the Normandy sector of France, from the landing on June 6 to August 6, totaled 16,434 killed, 76,535 wounded and 19,704 missing. Add to these figures American losses since August 6 and the losses of British, Canadian, French and Polish forces in northern France—remembering that thousands of French underground fighters have perished without being counted in casualty lists.

Then add American and Allied losses on the new front in southern France and the heavy casualties being inflicted by robot bombs on civilian and military personnel in Britain. It is difficult to estimate the grand total, but it would give some idea of the price being paid in the Battle of France. And it must not be forgotten that a large part of the price of their own liberation is being paid by Frenchmen, Frenchwomen and French children.

But is it not likely that such things will be forgotten. As American casualty lists grow longer and as the poignant tragedy of war enters home after home in this section of the country, people are drawn nearer to those whose homes are actually part of the battlefields. It has been said that there is glory enough for all in this war. It should be added solemnly and reverently that there is more than sorrow enough for all.

Presidential Powers

There apparently are a great many citizens of the United States who are honestly confused by President Roosevelt's curious stretching of the title "commander in chief." Curious is the proper word.

The Constitution is quite specific. It says: "The President shall be commander in chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, and of the militia of the several states when called into the actual service of the United States."

It will be noted that there is no reference whatever to the civilian population. Rather, the Constitution has specifically said nothing about the rights of civilians. Their rights are specifically left unimpaired.

The fact is that the Constitution gives the President the title of commander in chief of the Army and Navy and tenders to him no such authority over the citizen not in uniform.

But those about the President have sought to extend the commander in chief title to almost every activity of every citizen. Shrewdly and sometimes effectively, the thought has been driven across to many that the President is every one's commander in chief in precisely the same manner as he is over the Army and Navy.

Weighing this provision of the Constitution and considering Mr. Roosevelt's actions and utterances, it is very difficult indeed to escape coming to the conclusion that the use of the commander in chief title has been overplayed to a very great extent.

The Atlantic ocean has been crossed by air 20,000 times since the war began, a record that threatens to dim the reputation of one Christopher Columbus.

In addition to other books banned for the armed forces, the censors might give thought to the dictionary, which contains many words used by propagandists.

Whoever has charge of the postwar distribution of surplus war material should give careful attention to the fellow who wants to buy a tank for safe Sunday driving.

Hull And Dulles Contrast Shown

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—When Cordell Hull sits down with John Foster Dulles, whom Governor Dewey has designated as his representative for a non-partisan discussion of the form of the postwar world, it will be a study in character contrast of a remarkable order.

Hull was a poor boy from the hills of Tennessee. He has never had any more than his government salary, first as a member of the House of Representatives, then a senator and now a cabinet member at $15,000 a year. He educated himself in foreign affairs during the course of his long public career.

Hull Is Cautious

Cautious, Hull would say overcautious. His course has always been to hew doggedly away at a single line of attack. During most of his time as secretary of state he has concentrated on trade treaties. Hull's critics say disparagingly that he has a single-track mind which is too rigid and inflexible to meet the swiftly shifting course of world events. But his great personal popularity is grounded in a sense of his integrity and his unyielding devotion to principle.

Dulles' Background

Dulles, who will in all probability be Dewey's secretary of state if the Republicans win in November, was born to security and an international background. His grandfather was John W. Foster, a secretary of state in the Harrison administration. At the age of 19, he was one of the secretaries at the Hague peace conference of 1907. An uncle was Robert Lansing, secretary of state in the cabinet of Woodrow Wilson from 1915 to 1920. Dulles was close to Lansing in 1918 and 1919.

Today, Dewey's representative is the head of what is perhaps the wealthiest law firm in New York—Sullivan and Cromwell. The firm has taken an active part in the direction of some of the largest corporations in the country. Moreover, Dulles represents so many foreign governments that an ambassador here in Washington once jokingly referred to the law firm as a second state department.

Same Point of View

Yet these two men with such divergent backgrounds approach the problem of postwar security from more or less the same point of view. In his writings and speeches during the past two or three years, Dulles has emphasized the need for a modest beginning, with the nations of the world grouped around a union of the chief allies in the present war. This coincides with the thought of the Roosevelt administration.

When I wrote a column about Dulles in the spring, I had letters from several readers who said he had been a member of America first in the pre-Pearl Harbor period. I asked Dulles if this was true, and he replied with a frank and emphatic no.

Never Member

"I have never been a member, directly or indirectly, of any America first organization, have never attended one of their meetings and have never been in sympathy with their idea that America could or should be isolated," Dulles said. "No one," he wrote at the close of his letter, "who knows me and what I have done and stood for consistently over 37 years of active life could reasonably think I could be an isolationist of 'America First' in deed or spirit."

In his letter, Dulles explained why he thought the report had circulated that he was connected with the pre-war America First organization. He said that a long and valued client of his firm had consulted the firm about legal steps necessary to incorporate a New York branch of America First.

Gave Advice

Dulles replied that Sullivan and Cromwell would, as a legal matter, give the desired advice, but "on the understanding that we would not assume any continuing relation to the corporation." After the organization was incorporated, on the advice of one of the law firm's younger associates, word reached Dulles that his name was being used as "counsel" to America First. He acted promptly, he says, to put an end to that.

The Wall Street lawyer and "Jedee" Hull will speak the same language, although in a different accent. If they can reach an agreement, the cause of world security will have been advanced.

INDUSTRIAL HYGIENE

Industrial hygiene means looking after the health of workers. It used to be that house maids, cooks, cobblers, dressmakers and stone cutters, among others, were our main problems.

Nowadays we have many new problems in addition to the old ones. Our workers are exposed to many dangers and diseases.

The utmost care should be taken to protect our workers from injury by gas, poison or accident.

No matter how carefully he may be protected while at work, if the worker exposes himself to disease or danger when off duty, the good work is spoiled.

COLLEGE COURSE IN PERSONAL APPEARANCE

It is to be hoped that the era of "casual carelessness is about over among our college lasses. The rolled-up overalls, baggy sweaters and flip-flop shoes moccasins may soon fade from collegiate fashions, if the plans for Stephens College, Columbia, Missouri, materialize.

Muriel King, New York and Hollywood fashion designer will head a new branch of higher education at Stephens this fall, the idea being to give the girls pointers in personal grooming. This course, lasting two years, will give the girls instructions in taste, make-up, clothes selection and care, hair styling posture, grooming and dress design.

Miss King has the right idea in stating that she hopes to create an attractive style, developed by the girls themselves which would then be accepted universally by college students.

It's about time someone got this brilliant idea and it's a pity these instructions are not more general. High schools, as well as colleges, should give personal appearance courses. Some few women are born with a knowledge of good taste in clothes and general appearance but the majority must grope blindly until the mistakes of years give them an inspiration in that direction.

Perhaps school girls are learning at last that men always have and always will admire neatness and daintiness in women. Notice the trend toward "fussy" clothes. This is at the request of men returning from camps and overseas service. They are tired of drab uniforms and slacks and the careless way of living. They want their women to be completely feminine and attractively groomed.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHILD WHO HELPS

The Children's Aid Society of New York City has an excellent practice of awarding a medal annually to the girl, among its 7,000 members of the nine Girls' Clubs of the organization who displays "most helpfulness at home and at play."

This year's award went to Frances Bradley, 12 years old. Frances said she has had no vacation since her father died five years ago. She spends most of her time helping care for her younger sister and four little brothers while her mother is at work. Every evening she gets supper for the entire family and she helps her grandmother who comes daily to care for the children.

Frances also serves as a junior worker at the Jones Girls' Club, distributing toys and games and helping care for younger children.

Awards For Helping

I wish more organizations, including schools and Sunday schools, would find ways to put a high premium on home responsibilities. It might not be done by awards. Yet if awards are made, as often occurs in the upper grades and high school, why should not helping-at-home be among the achievements applauded publicly? It would not have to be limited to a family with only one parent living, or a family in which the mother works, though almost any school would be represented by such families.

It should be based on objective checks so that the child winning the award or "citation" would truly deserve it. Even in the Sunday school, especially for the ages from 6 to 12 there properly could be an annual ceremony that gave due distinction to the child who excelled in helping at home and taking definite responsibilities there, based on written statements from the parents. I can hardly think of a more practical way to make religion function well in the home.

Sunday Schools Could Help

Then I wish Sunday school teachers would in their regular instruction, constantly emphasize ways in which the child can be helpful at home and taking definite responsibilities there, based on written statements from the parents. I can hardly think of a more practical way to make religion function well in the home.

Parents wishing to have help on how to cultivate such responsibilities in the child might gain some constructive suggestions from my bulletin, "How To Teach Child To Help At Home" to be had for postage in a stamped self-addressed envelope sent to me at 235 East 45th Street, New York City.

This matter ought to be of major interest to the PTA or Mothers' Club. One or several meetings, devoted to this subject, might be held in some meetings both teachers and parents could make valuable contributions. As a result, teachers might grow more aware of their opportunities to motivate the child at school to choose to help more at home; and parents more sensitive to opportunities and ways of cultivating responsibility in the child not only at home but also at school and elsewhere.

CRANKMIRE ON POSTWAR

Said Old Crankmire one day as we chatted at tea:

"There isn't much doubt what this world is to be.

Men are gaining in wisdom and piling up things.

And living on money a day's labor brings.

We're home-loving people, and when the war is gone

We'll all want to do what we always have done.

"The boys who come back, once they've rested will turn

The money to marry and live on to earn;

For homes of their own they will work day by day.

They will succeed and the foolish will fail.

There'll be weddings to go to and births, as of old.

And christenings and burials and bells being tolled.

"The young will be seekers of fortune once more.

Nor will it be easier to find than before.

There'll be problems to solve; There'll be hardships to bear;

There'll be picnics to go to and days at the fair;

There'll be need for high faith when the battle guns cease.

For these, after all, are the blessings of peace."

But when he saw the wind boisterous, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried, saying, Lord, save me.—Matthew 14:30.

We have drifted into strange paths under pressure of war conditions, but basically ours is still a government of laws and not of men. The laws are made by Congress and administered by the executive department.

In wartime we found it necessary to delegate certain powers in the interest of speed and flexibility, but there should be no weakening of the basic principle. Congress, representing the people, is still the guardian of all the powers it has delegated.—Toledo Legal News.

(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Look for Adm. William F. Halsey, Jr., to make headlines again in the near future. Nothing has been heard about his activities since he was named commander of the Third Fleet, but you can be sure he hasn't been idle.

The Jap high command would give anything for an inkling of Halsey's plans, but the "fox of Guadalcanal" will show his hand only with guns and planes in a new war zone on the road to Tokyo.

Officers close to Halsey say that the admiral's greatest worry is that America might permit the Pacific war to end without smashing the Nipponese war machine completely. Halsey wants to see American fighting men marching down the streets of Tokyo.

Halsey and other Navy men are afraid that the Japanese might offer the United States alluring peace terms in the hope of getting a breathing spell in which to prepare for another war with the United States.

The Third Fleet undoubtedly will play a big part in the next major invasion move in the Pacific, and the new "D-day" should not be too far away.

WITH AMERICAN FORCES ON THE WESTERN FRONT IN FRANCE, Aug. 22.—High American officers agreed today with the statement of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery that the end is in sight in the battle of France.

It seems doubtful that the Germans will be able to make any more important stands or fight more than mere delaying actions on French soil.

Today the U. S. Third Army is smashing along the Seine river toward the sea in a drive to bottle up remnants of the German Seventh Army which escaped from the Falaise-Argentan trap.

In confusion According to an Allied staff officer, the German forces are in utmost confusion and simply do not seem to have any plans to cope with American Lieut. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's successive, long, flanking hooks which were made possible by the swift mobility of the American army.

Bradley is striking now in a thrust through Nantes and Gascogne and along the southwestern bank of the Seine in a drive to administer the final knockout.

Hitler has ordered the German army not to yield a foot of ground. But if his field generals attempt to carry out this order, the Germans in France are doomed to destruction, the staff officer said.

For propaganda reasons, the Nazis will probably hold certain areas as long as possible before salvaging what is left of their forces running back towards the vaunted west wall.

Rotarians Hear A. R. Heizman In Fine Talk Monday

Criticizes Attitude Of People Who Blame Shortcomings And Home Front Happenings On War

New Castle Rotary Club members heard an interesting talk at their noon luncheon meeting, Monday noon, in The Castleton, when A. R. Heizman, program chairman, plied the speaker who had been previously engaged, but was prevented from coming at the last minute.

Mr. Heizman spoke on the fault of too many persons in blaming happenings on the home front on the war, quoting from the American Legion Magazine, which editorialized on the subject recently, and told how the French in the last war had a habit of passing off anything they could not explain satisfactorily by shrugging their shoulders, and saying, "c'est la guerre," meaning, "It is the war."

He spoke of the petty chiselings which are going on by almost every citizen back home here, on regulations which have been laid down in regard to rationing and other restrictions, and of his experiences in getting his home repaired, declaring that it had cost him $4,500 for a job which should have cost $1,500 and took three months to complete, when it should have taken but three weeks, those responsible blaming it entirely on the war.

First Lieut. James A. Bickett, U. S. Air Force, who has recently returned from service in the Mediterranean theater, where he recently completed his required fifty missions against the Axis, was a guest of the club.

Delay Payment Of Compensation To Coal Strikers

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—(INS)—Secretary of Labor and Industry William M. Chesnut said today that the 4000 striking miners employed by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron company in Schuylkill county will not receive unemployment compensation benefits pending disposal of the company's appeal.

The strike began eight weeks ago. "They will not receive any benefits until the company's appeal has been disposed of by the unemployment compensation board of review," Chesnut declared.

Chesnut said the bureau had recognized the validity of the miners' claim but the company had appealed and alleged that it did not have to pay benefits because the miners were striking.

Officials of the board of review were unable to give any indication of when a hearing would be held.

The miners went on strike June 27 to protest an alleged company practice of docking the wages of contract miners and more than a quarter-million tons of anthracite were estimated to have been lost during the dispute.

Island Bases Badly Needed

Senator Connally Favors Acquiring All Islands U. S. Deems Necessary For Protection

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Sen. Tom Connally (D. Tex.), chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, declared that the United States should acquire all island bases the army and navy deem necessary for future national defense.

"The question undoubtedly will be dealt with in the conference connected with making of the peace," he said. "We can't just go out and demand and take bases."

Connally said he understood that all islands north of the equator, captured from the Japanese by American forces, are subject to retention by the United States.

Pick Islands We Need
"We should pick out the islands in the Pacific we need for our defense and should take all the islands which have been mandated to Japan and which they forfeited," he said.

"In the Atlantic we should proceed by negotiation to acquire any bases needed for the defense of the country. I prefer to obtain them by title rather than lease. Of course, the military will have to say what bases we need."

Connally said the United States probably should have a base on Iceland. He added that he doubted whether Iceland would object to granting us a base.

Seek Agreement
"All actions," he said, "should be taken in agreement with our allies." Sen. Carl Hatch (D. N. M.) endorsed proposals for having congress acquire island outposts for the defense of the nation.

"I don't mean that we should start on an imperialistic course," he said. "We want only those bases which are necessary to the defense of our country."

Hatch voiced the opinion that the issue will be injected into the Dumbarton Oaks conference here on the formation of a world organization to keep the peace.

No Allowance Of Paper For Extra Victory Editions

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—American newspapers planning V-Day extras and special editions must save the necessary newspaper tonnage from the current consumption quotas, Carroll Hanson, of the War Production Board, said today.

No extra newspaper can be allocated for victory editions or other special editions because of continuing paper shortages, said Hanson.

WPB's consumption — Control Order L-240 provides that a publisher using less newspaper than he is allowed in any quarter may carry over the tonnage saving for use in any succeeding quarter.

G.I.'s See Home Of English Washingtons
Cpl. J. A. DeWillo Of New Castle Among Visitors To Washington's Ancestral Home

Every Sunday morning a bus laden with American G. I.'s leaves the American Red Cross Leave Center at the Plough hotel, Northampton, England. It is bound for Sulgrave, 17 miles away, where the Elizabethan manor house, family home of the ancestors of George Washington, is situated.

Two thousand American soldiers who might never have seen the restored mansion have enjoyed the opportunity because of the enterprise of the Northampton Friendship committee, a local body which has credit for making Northampton the No. 1 leave center for American troops stationed over a wide area.

Among those who have visited the Washington home is Cpl. J. A. DeWillo, 505 Canyon street, New Castle. According to W. Cowper Barrows, chairman of the Friendship committee, these trips were started because the members of the organization felt that this was a place the soldiers would like to see.

Another reason is that the committee knows about the hospitality given to all British: airmen, sailors, and soldiers who have trained in America or called at U. S. ports and they want to return some of the kindness to American boys in England.

Second Lieutenant Howard Wilcox has been awarded an Oak Leaf Cluster to his Air Medal for his achievements during bombing attacks on industrial and military targets in Nazi-held countries and the Reich, according to an announcement from his base commander, Lt. Col. Glendon P. Overing.

State Treasurer And Eight Others Facing Charges

Political Activity In Violation Of Hatch Act Charged To Democratic Office Holders

By JOHN PAGET
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—State Treasurer G. Harold Wagner and eight other officials and employees of the Democratic-controlled fiscal department were preparing today to appear before a U. S. Civil Service commission examiner at Harrisburg September 6 to answer charges of political activity in violation of the Hatch Act.

The announcement of the hearing date prompted Wagner to confirm reports that the commission's jurisdiction would be tested in a Federal district court.

"We will ask for a Federal court injunction this week to stop the commission," Wagner declared.

If the commission substantiates the charges, it can direct the commonwealth to dismiss the accused with the exception of Wagner who is an elected official. If the commonwealth refuses to accede to an order to dismiss the employees, the commission can recommend the Federal government withhold from congressional grants sums equal to twice their annual salaries.

Wagner, who has contended the accusations were "politically inspired," said the request for an injunction would be filed either in Philadelphia or Washington district courts.

The charges grew out of alleged political activity in the 1943 elections and the 1944 primary.

Re-Elect Clark As President Of County Truckers

Fred Clarke was elected president of the Lawrence county chapter, Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association for the third consecutive year Monday night when the annual business meeting was held in the Castleton Hotel. With him were elected the following officers: Vice president Ed. Fawcett, secretary, Clayton Bryan and treasurer, Frank A. Wimer, the fourth term for Mr. Wimer. State trustees elected were Al W. Bauman, Jr., and Samuel A. Mooney. Local trustees, Julius Gardecky, James Erskine, John Loudon, W. O. Mooney and W. Thayer Martin. The tellers' committee for the election was composed of Louis Leddy, judge, Floyd Lusk, Joe Frenkel and Art Lundy.

Two representatives of the OPA, both of the Youngstown office, were present at the dinner meeting and spoke. T. R. Jacobs spoke on "Manpower and Parts". In it he urged the truck operators to let the OPA know of their needs for parts and that in many cases the parts could be secured. He congratulated the local chapter upon the work done on the man power question. Joseph Shaw spoke upon "Truck Allocations" and pointed out the manner in which new equipment may be allocated. He reminded them of the shortage of new trucks but said the outlook for the first quarter of 1945 was better than it had been.

Plans were laid for a corn roast for the membership to be held Thursday night, August 24, at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Pearl, 31 near Neshaunock Falls. The corn roast starts at 6:30 o'clock.

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Aug. 22.—(INS)—Comedian Bob Hope's USO party arrived in Hollandia today after a journey of many hours by air from Sydney, Australia, and gave the first "live artist" show yet staged at this forward base.

EIGHT STATIONS CLOSED
HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—(INS)—State Police Commissioner C. M. Wilhelm said today that eight substations have been closed since 1940 because of the loss of more than 500 troopers.

"It is a war time measure due to the loss of men to the service of the United States," he declared. "The shortage is not serious but we are definitely handicapped."

Only 1094 men were on the force today compared to a pre-war complement of approximately 1600. The stations will be opened after the war, Wilhelm said.

Asks That Schools Prepare To Resume Collection Of Cans

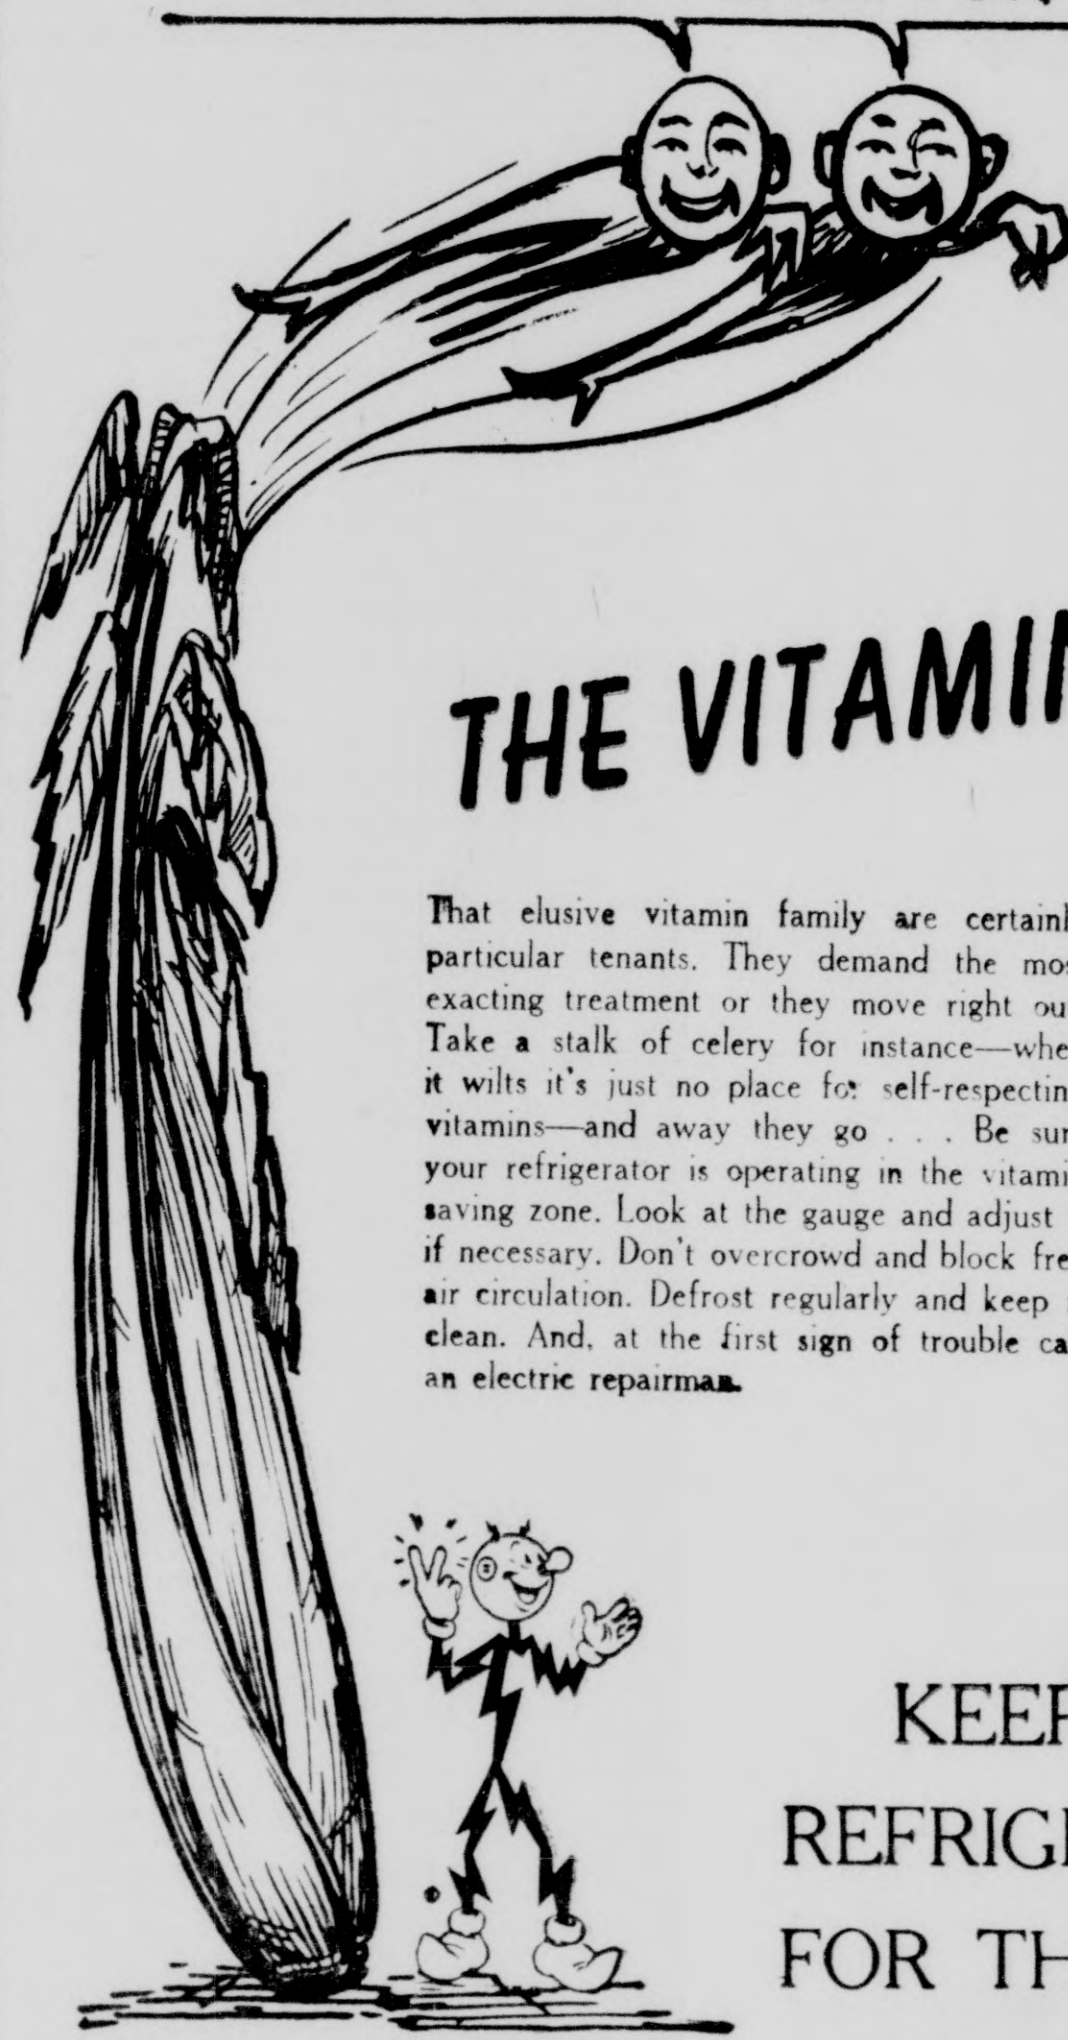

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—(INS)—Superintendent of public instruction, Francis B. Haas asked Pennsylvania public schools today to conduct an extensive can collection drive when the autumn term begins.

"The need for tin for war purposes is greater even today than last year," he declared. "We want the pupils of every Pennsylvania school to regularly engage in the collection of prepared tin throughout the coming school year."

Frank E. Fish, who was reappointed school salvage chairman, announced a contest would be conducted monthly with pennant awards to schools and war bonds to pupils making record collections. More than 37,000,000 cans were collected last year.

W.P.B. Chief Nelson Will Go To China

Mission Only 'Temporary' Is Word From White House On His Trip

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—President Roosevelt's assurance that War Production Board Chairman Donald Nelson's mission to China would be "temporary" quieted reports today that the WPB chief was prepared to resign his post.

But while the President said no WPB policy changes were "indicated" the Senate War Investigating committee was taking steps to determine whether plans for edging the nation's industry into some "peace" goods production would be upset.

Mr. Roosevelt's statement came dramatically in the midst of Washington speculation that Nelson's assignment—of "several months," according to the President's earlier statement—was a victory for opponents of Nelson's plan of partial reconversion of industry to civilian output.

Vice Chairman Charles E. Wilson, to be acting chairman of WPB during Nelson's absence, had sided with Army and Navy officials and War Manpower Chairman Paul V. McNutt against partial reconversion.

President Roosevelt declared specifically, however, that Nelson was not "being kicked in the teeth" and that the China move foreshadows no change in WPB policy.

Waste Paper To Be Collected On Saturday

If you were asked to donate a container for blood plasma, or a carton for munitions, or any one of the thousands of articles made of paper which are needed in the war effort, you'd give them if you had them. You do have them in your home, but not in the shape they can be used immediately. In the shape you have them, they are waste paper, magazines and cardboards. That's what you are asked to donate Saturday, Aug. 26, when another paper collection campaign is being staged in New Castle and the adjoining townships.

Every piece of waste paper should be bundled for the collection. Bundled in bundles not more than 15 pounds, but it out on the curb before noon Saturday, and trucks will come by your house. The Lawrence county chapter, Pennsylvania Motor Truck association and various merchants are supplying the trucks; all you need do is supply the paper.

Saturday, Aug. 26 is the day. Dig out your old paper and magazines, and the Boy and Girl Scouts collect and load it on the trucks. All net proceeds of the collection go to the Boy and Girl Scouts for their camp funds.

Sidetrack Name League Of Nations

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(INS)—The international security conference swung into its second session in Washington today, with indications that the beautiful white marble buildings on the shore of Lake Geneva would be abandoned, together with the name "League of Nations," to shake off the atmosphere of failure which still clings to the old league.

With opening ceremonies through, the security conference got down to its working program, going into secret discussions on an organization for keeping the peace after the war.

Believe 'Blackout' Killed Col. Boynton

Army Colonel Leaped From Plane 42,000 Feet In Air In Experiment That Proved Fatal

DAYTON, O., Aug. 22.—(INS)—Officials of the material command of the Army Air Forces at Wright field reported today that the eight-mile death plunge Saturday of Lt. Col. Melbourne W. Boynton apparently was caused by a "blackout."

Colonel Boynton, 39-year-old chief of the medical safety division of the office of flying safety, did not pull the ripcord on either of two parachutes he wore in an experimental jump at the nearby Clinton County Army Air Base, officials said. The oxygen equipment was still working after the body struck the ground, they said.

Boynton plunged through the bomb bay of a Flying Fortress at 42,000 feet and fell straight to the ground, landing two minutes and 35 seconds later in a cornfield. The death plunge was witnessed by nearly 100 Army personnel, including a score of high-ranking AAF engineers.

The temperature was 58 degrees below zero at the height from which Boynton leaped, the material command reported, and he apparently "blackout" and did not recover consciousness in time to open either of his chutes.

The jump, highest ever attempted, was to be a "free fall" until he reached an altitude of 5,000 feet, from which height Boynton planned to open both chutes.

Murder-Suicide In Detroit Home

Blame War Plant Jobs On Death Of Woman And Man Married For 25 Years

DETROIT, Aug. 22.—(INS)—Police attributed war plant jobs today as the cause of the murder and suicide of a man and his wife who had been married for 25 years.

Attracted by the lure of high wartime wages, Mr. and Mrs. George Willis came to Detroit from Pennington Gap, Va. Both obtained jobs at Continental Motors company, George by day and his wife by night.

Yesterday their bodies were found in their three-room apartment. Each had a bullet hole through the head. Police believe they had been dead since Friday.

Police said the position of the bodies indicated that he had killed her, then shot himself. Elsewhere in the room was a stack of money—$1,761 in cash, their war job earnings.

There was also a letter about the money, from Mrs. Willis to her son Glenn, who is still back in Pennington Gap.

"If anything happens to me I want you to spend all of it," she wrote. "George has been making awful threats. I don't know what might happen."

It happened before she had a chance to mail the letter.

Girl Stays In High School As Result Of Social Security: Wins College Scholarship

An interesting letter came this week to the manager of one of the field offices of the Social Security Board. It bore the postmark of an eastern university town and was signed with a girl's name. The story is told here by Edward J. Sinder, manager of the local Social Security Board office.

"Several days ago my last social security check arrived," the letter said. "And I felt I ought to write you and tell you what those monthly payments have meant to me. You may not remember me but two years ago what I learned in your office changed my whole life. I was 16 then, a junior at high school. My father died leaving my mother and me alone in the world.

"My mother got a job in a store but it didn't pay enough to support both of us. I went to my principal and told him I was leaving school to take a job. He said I mustn't decide on such a step too quickly and sent me to you. It was then I learned that my father's social security account would give me $30.25 a month until I was 18, provided I stayed in school.

"I graduated from high school last year and got a scholarship in chemistry at this college. I won't be a Madame Curie but I'm going to have a wonderful life. My mother agrees with me that I owe it all to my father and to social security. That monthly check for two years made all the difference between having to leave school and getting this wonderful opportunity."

This letter, breathing the aspirations and hopes of a budding young scientist, shows youth's stake in social security. Today, thousands of boys and girls in our high schools are going on with their education because of the survivors' payments due them on the social security accounts of their fathers or mothers.

This girl's mother did not receive insurance payments as the widow of a worker who was insured under federal old-age and survivors insurance because she was employed in a "covered" job. When she is 65 and stops work, however, she will be entitled to old-age benefits—either on her own account or on her husband's, whichever is higher.

The field office which serves the New Castle area is located at 306 Newhammock avenue. Mr. Sinder, the manager, points out that information and service at this office are free to the public. Though this story relates to a family's need, he explained that there is no examination into any person's resources in connection with payments to widows and children under this federal family insurance program.

Wartime Canning Notes

LIMA BEANS ADD VARIETY TO CANNED FOOD SUPPLY

Home-canned lima beans will "hit the spot" for meals that may seem a little dull next winter.

Lima beans are one of the starchy vegetables and must be properly prepared and canned so they will come up to expectations. To assure a high quality canned product, use only fresh beans picked at just the right stage of maturity. Shell the beans, then precook in boiling water 3 minutes.

Fill hot clean jars to within one inch from the top. Do not shake down or pack beans but see that they move freely in the liquid. Cover the beans with liquid in which they were pre-cooked or with boiling water. Put a half teaspoon of salt in each pint jar and one teaspoon in each quart. Adjust the covers and seal according to the type used.

In the pressure cooker, process pint jars 50 minutes and quart jars 55 minutes. In the boiling water bath, with the water at least one inch over the top of the jars, process pint jars 2 hours and 30 minutes and quart jars 3 hours. Start counting the processing time when the water is boiling briskly.

If you process lima beans in the boiling water bath, remember when you open the jar to use the beans boil the beans 10 minutes before tasting them. This boiling is necessary for all non-acid vegetables that are processed in the boiling water bath.

For further information on canning lima beans consult Miss Josephine Simpson, at the Agricultural Extension Office, No. 206 Post Office Bldg., New Castle.

Invents Trap To Capture Beetles

HERSHEY, Pa., Aug. 21.—(INS)—John J. Daniel, in charge of truck farming for the Hershey Farms, has invented a Japanese beetle trap that has a capacity of 14 to 15 quarts a day.

The trap consists of a device of round plates covered with beetle bait which lures the insects against highly charged wires where they are instantly electrocuted.

Farmer Daniel first experimented with a small trap, similar to an electric fly trap, and it was so successful that he enlarged the electric grill to 26 by 49 inches, using the bottom of tin cans, with commercial beetle bait inside as discs of attraction.

Around the farm he found two transformers and plugged in on the electric current transforming to 7-500 voltage which costs very little to operate for the "juice."

LANA TURNER
GETS DIVORCE
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—(INS)—Picturing herself as a verbally browbeaten wife, "Sweater" Girl Lana Turner today had a default divorce decree from Stephen Crane, former broker and tobacco heir, to whom she was married twice.

The film glamour girl testified at a hearing which lasted a brief five minutes that Crane yelled at her, berated her and quarreled with her.

She became "extremely nervous and irritable" as a result and lost so much weight that it affected her film work, she testified.

He was continually quarreling, nagging and yelling at me in a loud voice," Miss Turner said, "I became thin, caught colds, and had no resistance. When I was ill, he always had to stop the picture I was working in."

Custody of the couple's one-year-old daughter, Cheryl Christina, was granted Miss Turner. Crane was not in court but his attorney disclosed that an out-of-court property settlement had been reached.

Miss Turner formerly was the wife of bandleader Artie Shaw.

Attended by approximately 60 persons, the annual picnic of the 1911 class of Slippery Rock State Teachers' college was held at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Davenport on the Slippery Rock creek last Saturday afternoon and evening.

Since their commencement 33 years ago, members of this class have been meeting regularly in order to keep up their old friendships. New Castle guests included Mrs. Florence Gallagher Brennenman and husband, Mrs. Mary Wright Dean and husband and Edward L. Davenport and family.

Following the dinner, which was served out of doors, a large camp fire circle was formed, and the group listened to talks by Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Ryan, missionaries to Africa. George Miller of the college spoke about the shortage of trained teachers in the schools of the commonwealth and Dr. Beaty Dinit led the group in an appropriate fellowship benediction.

Mr. and Mrs. Davenport invited the class to return next year for the 1945 picnic.

Brownies Win In 12 Innings

Defeat Washington 5 To 3
As Indians Scalp Boston
Red Sox, Yanks Win

By JOHN CASHMAN
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—The St. Louis Browns, after suffering four straight defeats to break up their comfortable lead over the American league field, have a new lease on life today—but it's just a lease.
The Browns took over the Washington Senators last night in a 12-inning struggle, 5 to 3, which did not end until Don Gutteridge pitched a homer in the stands in the twelfth inning with one aboard. Six Jukowi and Mickey Haefer went all the way for their respective clubs, Jukowi being granted an eight-hit win.

Indians Scalp Sox
The Boston Red Sox hold on second place, however, was weakened considerably when the bean throwers dropped a 13-inning decision to the Cleveland Indians, 7 to 6. Red Killeman was credited with the win and Mike Ryba charged with the loss.

The New York Yankees, meanwhile, were creeping up on third place with a 5 to 1 win over the Detroit Tigers that put them within a half-game of that niche.
Frankie Hayes' infield single with the bases loaded in the ninth inning gave the Philadelphia Athletics a 3 to 2 triumph over the Chicago White Sox. The White Sox had tied up the count at 2-2 in the eighth.

Pirates Win Two
In the National league, the Brooklyn Dodgers dropped two games to the Pittsburgh Pirates. The opener was the play-off of an unfinished contest left over from July 9. The Pirates going only 2½ innings to give Fritz Ostermüller a 9 to 7 triumph. The second was a 10-inning affair that resulted in a 7 to 6 victory for Ray Starr when a long fly by Frankie Gustine in the tenth scored Bob Elliott.

The New York Giants pounced on the Chicago Cubs, 4 to 3, but Ernie Schnozzola Lombardi did most of the pouncing. The elephantine catcher clouted two home runs and a single to drive in all the Giants' runs. Johnny Allen was credited with the victory, although he needed the help of Ace Adams.

Deshon Soldiers Trim Machinists

Industrial League Leaders For Second Half Nosed Out 9 To 8, Heisenhower, Moore Star

Deshon Annex soldiers with "Lightning" Heisenhower on the mound defeated the I. A. Machinists, second-half leaders in the Industrial softball league last evening at Deshon Annex Field 9 to 8 in a ding-dong see-saw battle all the way.
First one team and then the other would take the lead in the exciting engagement. Heisenhower saved the Machinists ten hits, while the Deshon hurler, Gabby DeCaprio, permitted 12 hits. The winning tally was scored in the last of the seventh with Cominsky singled and scored on a long double by Moore.

The Machinists led at one time 6 to 3 but it was erased in the fifth inning when the soldiers went on a hitting spree and sent five runs over the platter. Best hitters in the Deshon lineup were: Moore, Cominsky, Bagdadia, and Heisenhower. For the losers the hitting of Deep DeCaprio, Don Edgar, Shorty Bonk and Whitman was the best.

Score by innings:

Men And Women In Uniform Can See Games Free

Service men and women in uniform will be admitted to New Castle senior high school football and basketball games free this season. This action was taken Monday night when the athletic council held its monthly meeting.

In the case of the men of the Deshon General Hospital Annex, a special block of bleacher seats will be located next to the stadium side of the field. Details for other service men and women home on furlough will be announced later. It is thought that many men or women home on furlough will be with civilian friends and will want to sit with their friends. In the case of the Deshon men, they are all stationed at the annex camp and will probably come to the game in a group.

Order Tie Game To Be Replayed

The Industrial softball league managers held a meeting in the "Y" last evening with "Butch" Winters in charge and discussed many important matters.

It was announced that the I. A. Machinists in their tie game 0-0 with the Shenango Pottery was not allowed and the game ordered to be re-played on the Cedar street field Friday night in what may decide the second-half championship. The Pottery still has a chance to win the second-half providing they can trim the Machinists.
It was announced that all managers arrange to get their postponed games played off as soon as possible. The league regular season ends on Wednesday.

Bessemer Hi Grid Meeting Thursday

Head Coach Joseph Weresuk, of Bessemer High school has called a meeting of the 1944 Bessemer high school football candidates at the Bessemer school building for 7 p. m.

All boys who intend to try for the team are asked to attend the session. "Just what kind of material there is, is unknown outside of the fact that we'll have plenty of beef this season," coach Weresuk said.

Good 1943 Record
"We had a crackjack team last fall, winning five, tying two and dropping two and we would have had a humdinger this year, but for the army and navy getting the cream of the crop that I had," Weresuk lamented.

Bessemer High's victims last year were—Kittanning, Lowellville, Union, Girard and Hopewell Township. The ties were with Shenango and Evans City. The losses were to Zelenople and Sharpville.

Revolver Club To Oppose Police Team

Sportsman's Revolver club will hold a shoot at eight o'clock tonight at the Cathedral range according to Secretary Charles Schweinsberg. He also stated matches will be shot with the Mahoning Metropolitan Police association in the near future.

The corn roast held Sunday at Dufford's cottage, Slippery Rock creek, was a complete success. The affair was supervised by Earl Dufford. Scores for last week's shoot follows: C. Schweinsberg 91, Bill McKee 90, C. Brunton 83, J. Allen 78 and H. Schweinsberg 74, according to Chuck Brunton, adjutant.

CAMPFIRE CORNER

MORE 22 AMMUNITION

While at this writing there has been no definite announcement relative to the quantity of shotgun and rifle ammunition that will be made available to hunters this fall, there does come word of the loosening of restrictions on 22-caliber cartridges for use in target shooting.

All you need do now to obtain a supply of 22s for target work is organize a group of 10 or more able-bodied U. S. citizens, build a range and have your secretary apply to the National Rifle association, 1600 Rhode Island avenue, Washington, D. C., for official requisition and purchase order forms. Will Provide Plans

To save time and eliminate effort, however, it would be better to write the association before building your range, since it must meet certain official standards. The association will, upon request, plan for a safe range. Payment of some dues is required, but they are nominal.

The new order, announced by the director of civilian marksmanship, states that the ammunition will be sold by the D. C. M. to NRA clubs in case lots of 10,000 rounds, and that sales by the D. C. M. do not require approval of the War Production Board. No sales will be made to individuals.

All boys who intend to report for football should make it a point to be prompt in reporting at 7 o'clock. Equipment will be issued as far as possible and a scheduled light workout is on the books for Friday morning at the stadium.

Football camp at Muddy Creek Falls will open on Monday morning, August 28, with a practice scheduled for 9:30 o'clock, or shortly afterwards, as soon as the boys can get settled in their bunk-houses.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(INS)—It looked today as though the New York Yankees will have to finish out the current season without their veteran catcher, Rollie Hemsley.

Hemsley, 37, was revealed to have been accepted for naval training after passing a recheck examination. He has been ordered to report at the Sampson, N. Y., naval training station.

Crippled Golfer Leads In Chicago

Ed Furgol Of Detroit Shoots Brilliant 67 Card In All-American Tourney

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—(INS)—A field of 134 amateurs blasted away today at the Tam O'Shanter Country club in the almost hopeless endeavor to surpass the par-shattering 67 of 24-year-old Ed Furgol, of Detroit, in the All-American golf tournament.

Other 67's have been shot at Tam O'Shanter, but none more remarkable than that posted by the lanky Furgol, a mailman in the Detroit Ford plant, in qualifying on the amateur side for the big triple-header tournament.

As the result of a playground accident 12 years ago, Furgol's left arm is 10 inches shorter than his right and his left elbow is permanently stiffened. Nevertheless, he wound up the first day of the 18-hole qualifying test five under par and three shots better off than any of his adversaries.

His outgoing card was a 32 four under par, and coming home his 40-foot downhill putt on the 18th just grazed the cup and deprived him of a 66.
Back of Furgol were two 70 shooters, Kenneth Heilemann, of St. Louis, and Frank Kovac, of Waukegan, Ill.

Dubber Dan Day Plans Complete

Expect Large Crowd Of Young Golfers To Participate In Castle Hills Event

Plans for the first annual Dubber Dan Day at Castle Hills golf course on Sunday, August 27, have been completed. The one-day 18-hole tourney is open to all men under 50 years of age. Charles "Chuck" Ward is general chairman of the event.

A final checkup meeting of the general committee will be held at the clubhouse tonight at 8:30 o'clock to talk over final plans for the annual get together of the golfers from 16 to 50. Wives of the committee will serve plate lunches to the golfers during the afternoon. Quite a few worthwhile prizes have been secured for individual accomplishments on the golf course.

20 years ago today: Philadelphia Phils won in the 11th, 5 to 3, over Cincinnati.

Brognano Signed Before July 31

Pitcher Brognano was signed before July 31, according to a list of players turned in to City League Secretary Ed Fritz by Ralph Fundoots of West Pittsburgh. His eligibility was questioned by the Pennsylvania Railroad Shopmen. Brognano pitched against the Shopmen Sunday, winning, 8 to 4.

Basora And Harris Matched For Bout

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 22.—(INS)—Joe Basora, the Puerto Rican who earned a TKO over Jimmy Mandell in an easy two rounds recently, today was scheduled to trade punches with Ossie Harris, Pittsburgh negro middleweight, over the 10-round route next Monday night at Hickey Park, in nearby Millvale.

I.A.M. TO PLAY JOHNSON BRONZE

Three Other Games Are Scheduled At 5:45 P. M. In City Loop

International Association of Machinists and the Johnson Bronze meet at 5:45 p. m. today at Marshall field. The Moose and Shenango Pottery, hot rivals, will clash at Lee avenue. Alcos will try to dump West Pittsburgh at West Pittsburgh, and the Universal Pottery A. A. will oppose the Pennsylvania Railroad Shop at the E. & A. field at the same time. They are City Baseball circuit teams.

Managers of all teams are expected to submit a record of their wins and losses with box scores of games tonight. This request has been made previously but has not proved fruitful, hence another request so that a proper standing may be published.

Radiator Co. Gets Gold Star For Production

Will Be Added To 'M' Pennants Already Flying Over National Radiator Co. Plants

In recognition of continual production achievement Admiral H. L. Vickers, commissioner of the United States Maritime Commission, and chairman of its board of awards, advised The National Radiator company that it had been awarded its first gold star to be added to each of the "M" pennants now flying over the company's equipment plant and general office in Johnston and Lebanon and New Castle plants. It was announced today by Robert S. Waters, president.

The local company has been producing a wide variety of cast iron and steel valves for Liberty and Victory ships, inter-coastal and combat cargo vessels, frigates and tankers now carrying men and supplies to the far-flung battle fronts.

Records Maintained When production records are maintained or exceeded, for each six months period following the initial award, a gold star is added to the "M" pennant in recognition of the achievement.

The initial "M" award occurred on February 12, 1944, and the presentation was made at New Castle, Pa., on March 31, 1944, by Charles F. Walsh, Jr., director of procurement of the maritime commission. Many government and company officials were present at the impressive ceremonies. On behalf of the maritime commission Mr. Waters and W. E. Longacre, vice president of manufacturing, presented Victory

Fleet flags and "M" pennants and merit badges to employees at the general office, equipment and Lebanon plants.

The Radiator company is the principal producer of manifolds for the commission; therefore, when the company's Lebanon plant was destroyed by fire in May of this year large segments of the shipbuilding program were faced with serious delays in completing urgently needed vessels that were being built in yards on the gulf, east and west coasts.

Plant Replaced

Through the immediate wholehearted cooperation of management and men, operations were resumed temporarily in leased quarters and shipments of urgently needed products started within 48 hours after the fire. In less than a week an idle plant in Lebanon was leased and new equipment purchased under WPB directives and production stepped up so that within a comparatively short time shipments were again on schedule.

Admiral Vickers in extending the appreciation of the maritime commission to every employee of the company who shares in winning the award for their noteworthy contribution to Victory Fleet program stated: "As our fighting forces press forward the attack on Berlin and Tokyo and greater burdens are placed upon our merchant fleet, it is my sincere hope that your company will continue to demonstrate the teamwork and cooperative effort so vitally needed to win this war."

Appeals Payment Of Striking Miners From State Funds

SHEPHERDSTOWN, Pa., Aug. 22.—(INS)—The Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company has appealed the payment of unemployment compensation to more than 4,000 striking miners in Schuylkill county, George A. Roos, general manager, announced today.

Company attorneys told the unemployment compensation division of the State Department of Labor and Industry that the men were involved in an industrial dispute since June 29 and hence were not entitled to the benefits.

"We don't know if we'll be able to stop the payments, but we're going to try," Roos declared.

The eight-week-old strike was initiated in protest against alleged "docking" of contract miners' wages by the company.

Approximately 4,000 varieties of the rose have been produced to date.

TELLS OF HAVOC IN NAZI RANKS

Correspondent Witnesses Attacks On 20,000 Germans In 'Valley Of Death'

By MONTAGUE TAYLOR
Reuters Special Correspondent
(Distributed by International News Service)

CHAMBOIS, Aug. 22.—I have just watched 20,000 men of Field Marshal Guenther von Kluge's German Seventh Army trapped and pounded in the valley of death by one of the most concentrated and perfect artillery bombardments of the war.

As the artillery bombardment rose to an incredibly furious pitch, the Germans threw themselves in wild melee against the steel sides of the bottle-neck at Chambois.

The lane of death was filled with tangled and blasted vehicles, dead and wounded and troops scrambling on foot or on bicycles to escape the merciless fire.

Allied guns held fire for a short time while six German prisoners were escorted into the valley to tell their comrades that escape from the gap was impossible and urging surrender. Earlier, I had watched hundreds of Germans scrambling from the cauldron of smoke and fire waving white sheets or rags as they crossed cornfields.

Shelling continued throughout the night and at dawn tired gunners still threw shells into hot gun breeches. The bombardment seemed to pour through a large funnel to the valley road.

When the fury of the concentrated artillery fire made a temporary rent in the wall of smoke I could see blazing heaps of vehicles and the milling of human figures.

At mid-morning a solitary figure strode towards the Allied positions. It was a medical officer of the German field hospital asking that the hospital be taken over by the Americans, as it was overflowing with wounded in the valley.

The barrage was lifted at one point while an American jeep with an American medical commander led the German ambulances with more than 300 casualties back into the Allied lines.

Directly in front of Chambois the Germans made a minor counter-attack with some effective mortar fire, but this soon was spent and the curtain of death came down on the doomed in the valley. It was the last grim act—the end of a Germany army.

Immediately after Pearl Harbor the Coast Guard darkened many lighthouses and navigational aids on the West Coast. In Alaska some lights were so difficult to reach that they had to be extinguished by gunfire from Coast Guard vessels.

Public Warning! BEWARE OF PIN-WORMS

Warlike living conditions may be the cause of spreading Pin-Worm infection. Scientific reports in many communities have shown at least one-third of the examined children and grown-ups to be victims of Pin-Worms—often without knowing what was wrong!

Watch out for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms in your child or yourself: the tormenting, embarrassing rectal itch, the uneasy stomach, bed-wetting, nervous fidgeting, finicky appetite.

New Discovery Hailed By Doctors

After centuries of distress caused by Pin-Worms, a new and highly effective way to deal with this stubborn pest has recently been discovered. This scientific discovery, hailed by medical authorities, is a remarkable drug (gentian violet). It is the vital element in P-W, the new Pin-Worm treatment developed by the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, America's leading specialists in worm medicines. P-W tablets are small and easy to take, and they act in a special way to destroy the creatures.

So don't take chances with Pin-Worms. At the first warning sign, ask your druggist for P-W, and follow the directions. P-W means Pin-Worm relief!

Allied Advances Slow Down Robot Bombing Attacks

LONDON, Aug. 22.—(INS)—Allied pursuit of the battered German Seventh army and gradual encirclement of the robot bomb launching installations in France have slowed down the attacks by the flying missiles on the south of England, British military observers said today.

Long day and night lulls in the attacks already are taking place and the assaults are expected to dwindle as time goes on. German launching sites along the river Somme, some 130 miles ahead of the advancing Allied forces, appear to have been abandoned.

There is some degree of speculation as to whether the Germans may have moved these sites into the Pas De Calais and Belgian coast areas, but it is believed the launching equipment was permanent and not prefabricated. Coast observers say attacks from the Pas De Calais and Boulogne areas have increased since the Somme launchings ceased.

It is not believed that the Germans have many launching sites north of the Hook of Holland.

West Middlesex Man Aids In Navy Rescue

Charles Graber Is In Avenger Which Circles Life Rafts Until Survivors Are Rescued

A navy aviation ordnance man from West Middlesex, Pa., was a crew member of one of two navy Avenger torpedo-bomber planes which stood by and assured the rescue at sea of two shipmates in the vast western Pacific recently.

As gunner aboard the navy Avenger, Charles Adam Graber, aviation ordnance man 2-c, USNR, of route 2, West Middlesex road, West Middlesex, Pa., accompanied his plane when it was launched from an Independence class aircraft carrier to search for two survivors from a plane forced to crash land at sea.

In company of a second Avenger, Graber and the crew members of his plane, piloted by Lieut. (jg) Henry Fairfield Manget, USNR, of Decatur, Ga., searched the sea below for 2½ hours after their take-off from the carrier before sighting two rubber life rafts tied together, each containing one survivor.

One torpedo-bomber, piloted by Lieut. (jg) Charles Freeman Rowley, Jr., USNR, of Chestnut Hill, Mass., circled the rafts at 500 feet, while Lieut. Manget's plane climbed several thousand feet to establish communications. When the low-flying plane exhausted its supply of dye marker and smoke bombs—and its pilot's life jacket (as an aid in marking the spot and keeping the bobbing dots in view)—the Avengers exchanged posts.

As the two pilots circled the survivors below, their fuel was running very low—and their carrier was 130 miles away, with no land within the radius. Still, the pilots and crews of the two planes stuck to their stations.

The planes finally contacted a destroyer with an e-scotting plane. Only after they were certain that the destroyer and its plane knew exactly where the rafts were, did Lieut. (junior grade) Rowley and Manget head home.

The destroyer made the rescue. The Avengers landed safely aboard their carrier with only a few gallons of gas remaining.
